

RITE NOW @ ROP

24 students that are assigned to eagles at the Arkansas Juvenile Assessment and Treatment Center (AJATC) were challenged this week to know all 8 planets of the solar system! After our assessment students' athletes completed various educational packets containing math, English and coursework about the solar system throughout the whole week our assessment student athletes at AJATC were put to the challenge to build their own solar system as a team. Our mission in Eagles Classroom is to create a healthy environment for our assessment student athletes that is comfortable and fun for them to learn. After our assessment student athletes completed the solar system project the entire group presented to the Paraprofessional, Mr. Knapper and they all gave a fact about at least one planet that were different. We are so proud of our student athletes and we will continue improving the lives of youth one day at a time in Eagles classroom.
